The remote agent plan is designed for experienced agents who have marketing systems in place or are planning to implement marketing strategies. Leads from the office will be distributed on a case by case basis, but the agent should not rely on the broker to provide leads. At any firm a successful agent generates their own leads by utilizing proprietary marketing and networking. The agent will not have access to office space paid for by Texas Property Shop and should utilize their home office or purchase office space on their own.
